

iSqFt®/Bid News Continues to Grow in Oklahoma

CINCINNATI – September 25, 2009 – iSqFt, a preconstruction services company, in a follow-up to its recent acquisition of Tulsa-based Bid News Construction Reports, LLC, is pleased to announce several staffing changes in Oklahoma.

Hired: Longtime Oklahoman Richard Knapp has joined iSqFt as Director of General Contractor Sales. Knapp’s professional experience in the commercial construction industry includes founding and operating a general contracting company that specialized in negotiated design-build and renovation projects. Knapp brings over 25 years of leadership in entrepreneurial business operations to iSqFt’s clients. “Having been a GC myself, I understand the importance of watching the bottom line. I look forward to showing GCs how they can achieve productivity gains and create cost savings by using iSqFt.”

Hired: Bucky Cordray has joined iSqFt as Market Manager for the Oklahoma territory. Cordray, a native of Oklahoma, brings experience as a Commercial Millwork Contractor. He also served as a Regional Sales Manager for SCM Group Machinery, where he was instrumental in launching a state-of-the-art technical training facility for commercial/residential millwork companies. “Over the years I’ve learned that relying on a network of contractors is the key to getting a job done on time and on budget. I’m ready to help contractors across the state find, bid, and win more work by using the iSqFt Construction Network.”

Promoted: Native Oklahoman Beth Wallace has been promoted to Market Reporting Manager for the Tulsa and Oklahoma City Bid News/iSqFt Plan rooms. Wallace brings with her extensive experience in providing information and service to all types of construction businesses through her tenure with Bid News. “Providing excellent customer service has always been our top priority,” says Wallace. “I look forward to continuing that mission by ensuring that all iSqFt customers have access to the latest information, including newly released government Stimulus projects, to assist them in finding and winning new work.”
